

Abstract of the Disclosure

A swim lift platform using hydraulic force to lift a swimmer between positions in which the platform is above water level to a submerged position. The movement is under the control of a swimmer occupying the platform.